DO YOU KNOW

That Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the only medicine sold through druggists for woman's weaknesses and peculiar ailments that does not contain large quantities of alcohol? It is also the only medicine, especially prepared for the cure of the delicate diseases peculiar to women, the maker of which is not afraid to take his patients into his full confidence, by printing upon each bottle wrapper all the ingredients entering into the medicine. Ask your druggist if this is not true.

"Favorite Prescription," too, is the only medicine for women, all the ingredients of which have the unqualified endorsement of the leading medical writers of the several schools of practice, recommending them for the cure of the diseases for which the "Prescription" is advised. Write to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., for a free booklet, and read the numerous extracts from standard medical authorities praising t' several ingredients of which Dr. Pierce's medicines are made, and don't forget that no other medicines put up for sale through druggists for domestic use can show any such professional endorsement. This, of itself, is of far more weight and importance than any amount of so-called "testimonials" so conspicuously flaunted before the public, in favor of the alcoholic compounds.

The "Favorite Prescription" cures all woman's peculiar weaknesses and derangements, thus banishing the periodical headaches, backaches, bearing-down distress, tenderness and dragging-down sensations in lower abdomen, accompanied by weakening and disagreeable catarrhal, pelvic drains and kindred symptoms.

Dr. Pierce and his staff of skilled specialists may be consulted free by addressing as above. All correspondence is treated as sacredly confidential. By consulting in this way the disagreeable questionings and personal "examinations" are avoided.

The People's Common Sense Medical Adviser contains some very interesting and valuable chapters on the diseases peculiar to women. It contains over one thousand pages. It is sent post paid, on receipt of sufficient in one-cent stamps to pay cost of mailing only, or 21 cents for a copy in flexible paper covers, or 31 cents for a cloth-bound copy. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce as above.

Dr. Pierce's Pellets regulate and invigorate stomach, liver and bowels. One a laxative, two or three cathartic.

TO CURE ANY DISEASE.

The Cause Must Be Removed, Same Way With Dandruff.

Kill the germ that causes dandruff, failing hair and baldness, you will have no more dandruff, and your hair must grow luxuriantly. Newbro's Herpicide not only contains the dandruff germ destroyer, but it is also a most delightful hair dressing for regular toilet use. No other hair preparation is on this scientific basis of destoying the dandruff germs. It stops all irritation, keeps the scalp sweet, pure and wholesome. Remember that something claimed to be "just as good," will not do the work of genuine Herpicide. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

LETTER FROM SWITZERLAND.

[Correspondence of the Alexandria Gazette.]

Ragaz, Switzerland, July 25, 1006.

It was with unfeigned surprise that an American mother, registering at a Swiss hotel about the 1st of July, ascertained that she could enter her two children in the neighboring public school. There was absolutely no "red tape" about the matter. The two little strangers, who had a fair knowledge of German, were classed with children of their own age, provided with books, music books, slates, pencils, writing material, etc, just as the native children; every article was free, and brand new. The mother, expressing her surprise at this liberality toward transient visitors in Ragaz, was told by one of the teachers that he could see no occasion at all for her warm appreciation. "Why not?" "What harm can two little children do?" "Wherefore us?" "Is not the object of the school to do all the service that it can?" And the American woman would have blushed to admit that, at home, the children of one county were often made unwelcome, or even refused free admittance to the country public school in the adjoining county! "Is not the the object of the school to do all the service that it can?"

Following this generous view, Switzerland exhibits, in spite of the poverty of its people, a school system that puts richer nations to shame. As a necessary result of the immense engineering work always going on here, numbers of Italian masons are employed in the country. For the little children of these common Italian laborers, the public school authorities in certain cantons provide extra Italian teachers, that the little foreigners may not forget their mother-tongue, nor be hampered in their school work by the difficulties of learning, first, a strange speech.

A few days ago the little American children reported to their mother that there would be no school the following day, as one hundred and eighty visiting school children from the city of Basel, or Bale, as it is on English maps, were to sleep over night in the school house. The mother knowing Basel to be about 150 miles from Ragaz, charged this extraordinary statement to her own children' unperfect knowledge of German, but sure enough, about eleven o'clock the following morning music was heard approaching, and the tramp, tramp, tramp of little feet, and one hundred and eighty children, marching in military order to the strains of their own little band, entered the village. A great van followed, with knapsacks, cooking utensils, bedding, provisions, medicines, and all necessities for whatever emergency might arise, and on the top of all the luggage perched several little fellows, footsore, and unable to keep up with the others on foot.

It was a fine sight these sturdy little son's of a brave nation, each boy with an Alpine staff in his hand; all roughly clad, heavily shod for the long tramp, and their faces beaming with heat and exercise. A delegation of little girls came later by train. Curiousity sent the American mother to the school house and, peeping in the windows of the first floor, she saw that all the heavy furniture had been removed, and the floors were covered with fresh straw, where the tired little ones would sleep. At seven o'clock that evening, an incongruous company assembled outside the school walls, to see the preparation for supper. Fashionably dresses French and English women, dissipated old barons, Hungarian and Polish adventures, mingled with the peasants of the village, the little tradesmen, the bakers, the tailors, the tired mothers with babies in their arms and inside the school yard, the visitors were making soup-camping out, in royal style! What a stirring and tasting, what a searching in knapsacks for spoons, knives and forks! What a rattling of tin soup pans, each fellow having his own! What a sawing and chopping of great loaves of bread! What a business like strutting about, before the eyes of so many spectators! What a breaking up into little groups of congenial three or fours, and siting down to eat! And then what a silence!

This little army were out for a two weeks' excursion, "to see the Fatherland," making a round trip. They had had occasional lifts by train, but they had travelled mostly by foot; camping out when the weather was favorable, finding the hospitality of a school house, over night, here and there. There were some necessary expenses, but I was informed that when the parents could not spare the money, it was found in other quarters, for must not every Swiss know the Fatherland?" They had seen cities and villages from Basel to Fluelen, on Luzerne; had sailed on the beautiful lakes; had heard over and over the romantic stories of William Tell and Arnold von Winkelried, and the early struggles for liberty in these great mountains. They had climbed the peaks, through snow up to their knees; they had seen the untiring industry, in garden, field and vineyard, of their patient peasantry; they had seen, all over their land, the stream of foreigners, who make Switzerland their summer playground, who eat and drink the best of everything, but who leave English and American money here among the mountains. They had seen the ruins of ancient castles, with towers and dungeons, testifying to the grim unmerciful life of the earlier centurics. They had seen something of the great cheese industry, and the herds of goats and cows—on the lonely highlands. They had seen the maidens of the land, in their pretty national costumes, bending untiringly over the embroidery frames; they had seen the masterpieces of engineering, the splendid roads and bridges and walls of their country. They had seen the ceaseless labor of old and young; and, above all, they had seen the national wonders and beauties of Switzerland—the glaciers, the lordly mountains, the eternals snows, the gorges and cataracts, lakes and rivers. Is it any wonder that the Swiss love their country almost to madness, or that the children of this nation walk, barefoot and sturdy, from house to house the summer nights, singing the songs of the Fatherland? And is it not well for the two little visitors from the great republic four thousand miles away, that they may share, for at least a little while, in the hospitality and the simplicity and the genuine patriotism of this beautiful little land—this little republic of the old world?

"Is not the object of the school to do all the service that it can?"

"Should not every boy know the Fatherland?"

Upon such sentiments as these, is built the enduring love of home, the courage and the self sacrifice which distinguishes this generous folk, and which has made Switzerland unconquerable.

AND VIRGINIA ADVERTISER

SATURDAY EVENING, AUG. 4, 1906.

HOTELS have been suffering for some years from the depredations of women who, under the pretense of collecting souvenirs, carry away any small pieces of cut glass, silver and table linens that they can conveniently secrete. These eminently respectable pilferers, who shine in good society, have now begun operations on clubs, their opportunities for sacking which are, of course, very limited. The other night the Crescent Athletic Club, of Brooklyn, entertained the women friends of the members. On the way home an automobile was overturned, and one of the guests complained she had lost a bracelet. The search for that was rewarded with the discovery of a silver napkin ring, several spoons and a hand mirror, all marked with the club name. Notices have now been posted in the club's houses that any member or guest caught carrying away napkin rings, glasses or silver will be summarily dealt with. The passion of so-called society women for souvenirs, says the Philadelphia Record, is limited to articles of substantial pecuniary value, and small enough to be concealed.

THE REPUBLICANS of South Dakota at their last State convention declared that the tariff "should be modified from time to time to meet changed conditions." The republican members of Congress from that State have been voting to stand pat and supporting Speaker Cannon in packing the ways and means committee and refusing to recognize any member who proposed to modify the tariff, even on such articles as those on which the rate exceeds 100 per cent. If the republican voters of South Dakota really favor tariff revision they must elect democrats to Congress and elect members of the legislature who will elect tariff reformers to represent the State in the Senate. If a majority of both Houses of Congress was composed of republicans pledged to tariff reform, such might be accomplished, but as long as a few lone and lukewarm republican tariff reformers attend republican caucuses and refuse to join with the democratic members in forcing tariff revision, such declarations in convention are either child's play or intended to deceive the voters.

THOSE foreign anarchists, or American anarchists, must remember that in this land of comparative liberty there is no license for lawlessness, and although there is free speech and a free press the line is drawn at anarchy, because the people of the United States believe in law and order. Every one is allowed to speak his mind, if he does not incite a disturbance of the peace of the community. The socialists it is true, preach the overthrow of the present methods of government, but they aim to do so at least in their open declarations by the rule of the majority and under the guise of law. There is a vast difference between liberty and license and to abuse the right of free speech so that what is said would incite a breach of the peace is a crime and the perpetrator is liable to punishment according to the law of the several states.

ANOTHER crusade against Sunday funerals is being waged in Baltimore, and Cardinal Gibbons has indorsed the hack drivers' association which is prominent in the movement. The petition is signed by 230 clergymen, thirty hack owners, twenty-eight undertakers and 225 drivers. When signing the paper, the cardinal promised to use his influence with the Catholic clergy to bring about the desired result. The cardinal said he also opposed Sunday weddings.

POSTMASTER-GENERAL CORTELYOU told the Senate committe on postoffices and post-roads that the department had not recommended the granting of railroad mail subsidy, but that "no objection had been raised against it." Mr. Cortelyou evidently believes it good policy not to oppose the railroads or he might not find it easy to collect campaign funds from the corporations for the next national election.

SUCH are said to be the merits of the electric cow milker that within the next ten years Niagara Falls will probably be set to milking all the cows within a radius of 350 miles of the falls. One farmer who had tries the electric patent says it milks his thirty-two cows in less than five minutes, the kickers included. To such uses have Jove's dread lightnings come at last!

J. G. RAWLINS, who murdered the three Carter children in Lowndes county, Ga., and who was to have been hanged at Valdosta next Friday, has been allowed an appeal on curious grounds. Rawlins appealed from the decision of the court on the grounds that there were no preachers upon the jury that tried him. Rawlins is said to have been a preacher of the gospel for six years.

IMMIGRATION to Canada has risen from 16,885 in 1896 to 185,000 in 1906. A few years ago it was claimed by the jingoes that the Canadians wanted to "annex" to the United States!

From Washington.

Correspondence of the Alexandria Gazette.]

Washington, Aug. 4

In order to obtain enough men to man the new battleships that are being put into commission, the navy has adopted a unique scheme. A biograph machine, showing several hundred views of the life in the navy, from shore duty to sports and hard work on battleships, pleasant sea cruises and actual warfare, will be sent out on the road under charge of the chief electrician of the navy for public exhibitions at the recruiting stations. For some time the officials have been experimenting with the scheme, and last night they witnessed official demonstration of it in the Washington navy yard. This was for the purpose of obtaining the approval of the officials of the pictures exhibited and the manner of conducting the show. Today the shows will proceed to Detroit, where they will report to the commander of the "Wolverine." The vessel will convey them to different cities on the lakes, where exhibitions will be held. The recruiting officers will advertise these events in advance and issue free tickets to Y. M. C. A. and other young men's organizations. After touring the lakes the party will spend some time in Chicago, and then proceed to St. Paul, Minn., and other points in the northwest.

A preliminary meeting of the government board to supervise the installation of the exhibits of the national government to the Jamestown Exposition will be held next Thursday. This board consists of the chief clerks of the various departments, and it is understood that the President himself, because of the interest he has in the Jamestown project, has urged their early meeting. The purpose is to discuss the character of the exhibits to be made, and to consult with the Supervising Architect of the Treasury upon the design of the buildings to be erected and the amount of floor and wall space that will be available. It is understood that the effort will be made to duplicate at Jamestown the government exhibit which was such a grand success at the Portland, Oregon, exposition.

Assistant Surgeons Theodore Normand Pease and Harry Lee Brown, of the United States navy, have been ordered by the Secretary of the Navy to appear before a court-martial board and answer to the serious charges of "gouging," the naval term for cribbing or cheating, while being examined last week for promotion. Secretary Bonaparte appointed the court-martial yesterday morning and ordered it to meet on next Monday at the Washington navy yard. The examination in which the two medical officers participated was held last week. All assistant surgeons who were eligible for promotion took the examination. It is said unofficially that notes were taken into the examination room and the officers referred to these during the course of the test.

Secretary Wilson, of the Agricultural Department, is making merry today over a joke he has just played on the newspaper men of Washington and New York. He returned to his desk this morning after an absence of several days, the latter portion of which he devoted to an inspection of every packing house of importance in New York city. The Secretary left Washington Wednesday for Philadelphia, where he inspected a number of packing houses. The newspaper men got on his trail in that city, but lost it again. This morning the secretary stated that after leaving Philadelphia he went to Jersey City and New York. Yesterday he inspected eight New York packing houses without the fact becoming public. Few people knew of his presence in the city besides the regular inspectors at the packing houses visited. He did not intimate when he left Washington that he was to visit the metropolis before his return. The secretary this morning said: "In all the plants I inspected they were busy remedying conditions to meet our inspection. I went through every room. Sometime the inspector wanted my opinion in regard to the conditions of the floor, sometimes about the contiguity of toilet room to packing rooms. Conditions are not bad, but they are not quite what we desire. I saw the model house Messrs. Neill and Reynolds described in their report. It was all that has been said for it. It is what we want all houses to be. But we cannot compel every one to rebuild his house." Secretary Wilson said he would soon make another inspection tour of the "gum shoe" variety.

At a meeting of the National Colored Teachers' Association, an adjunct to the Negro Young People's Christian and Educational Congress, at the A. M. E. The resolutions approved of the separation of the whites and blacks if equal accommodations are afforded the latter.

It is not expected by the officials of the State Department that the trade agreement between the United States and Spain will become effective before September 1st. It will be necessary for U. S. Minister, Collier, at Madrid, to send to this government a copy of the decree of the Spanish king making certain concessions to American goods shipped into Spain, before President Roosevelt can issue a proclamation under section 3 of the Dingley tariff act giving reciprocal reductions to certain lines of Spanish goods sent into this country. Much gratification is felt at the State Department, however, that Minister Collier has been able to reach such an excellent trade agreement with Spain.

Diplomatic and official society here was greatly surprised on learning that Mlle. Marguerite Cassini, the adopted daughter of Count Cassini, formerly Russian Ambassador to the United States, now representing the Czar at the Court of Madrid, has abandoned the Russian State Church and joined the Roman Catholic communion. The President has accepted the resignation of 2d Lieut. E. P. Larned, of the Marine Corps, who is now stationed in Peking, China, with the U. S legation guard there. Larned is one of the "Larned brothers" of Princeton University who made such a reputation as tennis players a few years ago. He has only been in the Marine Corps a short time, but it is said at the Navy Department he has always proven himself an excellent officer. He has resigned from the service in order to enter private business with his father.

The annual report of James E. Roderick, chief of the State department of mines of Pennsylvania, for the year 1905, shows a total loss of life in and about the anthracite mines of 644, and in and about the bituminous mines of 479. The report states that from 1881 to 1905 inclusive, 4,425 miners and 2,452 miners' laborers were killed in Pennsylvania, and that more than half of these fatalities were due to negligence, carelessness, recklessness, and ignorance on the part of the victims.

Thomas Stoops, colored, touched a live wire of the United Telephone Company, in Waynesboro, Pa., Thursday afternoon and received a shock that killed him almost instantly. "I dare you to take hold of that wire," said Stoops to Charles Robertson, also colored, as they were walking through an alley. The wire was dangling on the ground. Robertson said he was afraid to touch it. Stoops bent over and picked up the wire with his right hand. The next moment he fell unconscious. He was carried into a livery stable, where he died shortly afterward. Stoops' fingers were burned to the bone. The wire was crossed by an electric-light wire.

Death of Rear Admiral Train.

Rear Admiral Charles Jackson Train, of the United States navy, died at 9:16 o'clock yesterday morning at a hotel at Chefoo after a brief illness. He had been suffering from Bright's disease. Charles Jackson Train since September 18, 1904, had been commander-in-chief of the Asiatic station. He was born in Massachusetts, and appointed to the Naval Academy from the State, November 26, 1861. Admiral Train served on many stations and did many important duties. All told he saw nineteen years and some months active service at sea and more than twenty-three years on land, making forty-five years that he served the American navy. He was assigned by President McKinley to represent the Navy Department at the Atlanta Exposition, and during the Spanish American war commanded the United States war ship Prairie, of the North Atlantic patrol squadron, that part of the fleet intrusted with the task of defending the great seaboard cities of the Middle and New England States. Prior to taking command of the Asiatic squadron he for a time commanded the United States monitor Puritan, which now lies at anchor in the harbor of Washington, having been turned over to the naval militia of the District of Columbia. He was president of the Board of Inspection and Survey from 1901 to 1904. Upon him devolved the important duty of maintaining neutrality in Philippine waters during the Russo-Japanese war.

Judge Assaulted and Robbed.

It was not learned until yesterday that Judge William G. Hawkins, jr., of the Orphans' Court, of Pittsburg, Pa., an eminent jurist, of Allegheny county, was the victim of a murderous assault by footpads near his home, in the fashionable east end, on Wednesday night. Judge Hawkins, it appears, was taking a customary walk near his home previous to retiring, when he was set upon and beaten. His nose was broken, his face badly cut and bruises were sustained upon the body. He was left unconscious on the street, but later regained his senses and managed to make his way to his home. He has an indistinct recollection of three men attacking him, but no clue to the identity of the assailants can be obtained. Robbery was undoubtedly the motive, as Judge Hawkins was relieved of a gold watch of much value and a sum of money. He is in a critical condition, which causes anxiety to his family because of his advanced years—about 70.

Col. Perry.

The Governor has accepted the resignation of Col. George Wayne Anderson, commanding the Seventeenth Regiment of Infantry, Virginia Volunteers, and orders have been issued instructing Lieutenant Colonel Perry to assume temporary command. No time has been fixed by the Governor for the election of a successor to Colonel Anderson. The commissioned officers composing the electorate will be consulted in this respect and a date fixed that will be agreeable to all. Adjutant General Anderson hopes to have the election held some time during the present month. Col. Perry, Major Stanley W. Martin, of Danville, and Capt. R. Craighill, of Lynchburg, have been named as possibilities.

Both the British Houses of Parliament adjourned today for the summer vacation. The sittings will be resumed October 23.

William E. Wilcher was hanged at Lexington yesterday for the murder of Henry J. Smith last February. He left his cell at 6:04 and was executed at 6:22. There was no hitch and death was instantaneous. He was perfectly calm, and showed no indication of any nervousness or weakness. He made a written statement yesterday, which was simply a corroboration of his confession, made several weeks ago. The statement was read yesterday morning just before the execution. Wilcher was the first white man ever hanged in Rockbridge county.

SALE OF ELMINGTON.

Mr. Grant Parish, of Washington, has scored another large real estate sale during the past week, with the transfer of the famous colonial estate known as "Elmington," the home of Mr. Thos Dixon, jr., at Dixonsdale, the new owner being Mr. Thomas Walkup, a stock broker in New York, the price paid being $45,000. "Elmington manor" is a square brick mansion, beautifully situated on a peninsula extending into North river, Mobjack bay, very near Old Point Comfort. The sale is interesting inasmuch as the place is the subject of the popular book written by Dixon, "Life worth living," who considered it the ideal home and country. On the land side there is an avenue drive that stretches away from the gate through giant trees for two miles into the hills. On the water side it looks majestically out to the Chesapeake bay and the Atlantic ocean. A sunny green sward of 15 acres in front of the mansion runs down to the water's edge. "Elmington" is deeply rooted in colonial history. Its broad acres were crown grants two hundreds years ago. A short drive south is the village of Yorktown, the scene and siege of Lord Cornwallis. On the York river side, stands sweet old "Rosewell." The Page estate, the most palatial country establishment of the old school in the country, near by, is the meeting place of Capt. John Smith and the Indian chief Powhatan. Across and hard by is old Williamsburg and ancient Jamestown, all sacred soil. The mansion house was built away back in colonial times, but was renovated 60 years ago by Dr. John Prosser Tabb. The walls are three feet thick and three and a half stories high, containing 32 rooms. The grand hallway is 20 feet board by 35 feet deep. In the rear winds a magnificent mahogany stairway gracefully up to the observatory. The mahogany rails and spindles are the finest handcarved work. The windows and door sills are of Italian marble. There are four bath pools, gas and furnace heat, a dozen huge open fire places, and all the latest city conveneuces. Hundreds of slaves aided skilled workmen to build the vast walls. On both sides, that is facing the sea and hills, are mammoth Corinthian columns, stately, commanding extending sheer up to the pinacle of the roof. There is virtually no back to the house. The name of "Elmington" was given in colonial times, from its giant trees, especially the alms. On the lawn are 390 large virgin trees of 37 varieties. The estate embraces 450 acres of agricultural lands and is nearly surrounded by salt water. Mr. Grant Parish is following the advice of his friend, Hon. Harry St. George Tucker, president of the Jamestown Exhibition, who recently said to Mr. Parish that old Tidewater Virginia will boom after the thousands of people have visited that locality at the coming Jamestown enterprise and sample the adorable climate and wonderous resources of that section of the country.

Exciting Scene.

The trades dispute bill, which is a direct outcome of the decision that trades unions funds are liable for the illegal acts of individual members of a union, passed the committee stage in the British House of Commons yesterday morning and was reported to the House amid ministerial cheering. Considerable excitement marked the debate, during which several amendments opposed by the government were defeated by narrow majorities, in one case the government being saved from defeat by a few unionist votes. There was a somewhat extraordinary scene after midnight following on Prime Minister Campbell-Bannerman's refusal to accept Lord Robert Cecil's motion to report progress, Lord Robert saying that the Prime Minister had pledged himself that the debate should not continue after 11 o'clock. When the motion was defeated by a government majority of 212, Mr. Balfour accused the Prime Minister of deliberately breaking his pledge. He declined to take further part in the proceedings, and invited his followers to leave the House. The invitation of the former Prime Minister was accepted by all of the three-score of members of the opposition present, amid ironical ministerial, nationalist and laborite cheering. A few of those who left the chamber returned subsequently, but the front opposition bench remained empty and several liberals and radicals took seats on it, amid radical cheering. The debate then proceeded without interest to its close.

CONDITIONS IN RUSSIA.

St. Petersburg, Aug. 4—The situation here is growing more threatening hourly, as the strike is growing and the danger of violence increases. Most of the shops in the city are closed, owing to the fear of the proprietors that there will be violent outbreaks. Strong patrols of policemen occupy the streets and the troops are held in readiness for emergencies at vantage points. It is feared that there may be serious clashes between the troops and citizens before the day is over. One clash between strikers and policemen occurred this morning at the Sestrortsk railway station in which eight policemen were killed. The fighting caused the greatest excitement.

Reports received this morning say that minor strikes have occurred at Usofka and Skatarineslav and elsewhere throughout the provinces, but they have not proved serious.

The authorities have taken unusual precautions for patrolling the Neva districts. Extra steamers, armed with quick firing guns, have been pressed into this service and a steady patrol of the river is maintained.

The railway men this morning did not show much eagerness to mix in the general strike ordered to begin at noon today. Whether they will eventually take part in the strike remains to be seen.

A mutiny occurred today in the Nijni-Novgorod district. A battalion of soldiers revolted because two of their number were imprisoned for insubordination. The infantrymen threatened to kill their officers and manifested such an ugly spirit that the two prisoners were released. This ended the mutiny.

The recent uprisings and mutinies have alarmed the Czar, and it is stated that he has decided to abandon all liberalism and to rule in the future with an iron hand. A complete return to absolutism is anticipated.

About 170 of the Kronstadt mutineers have been placed on trial for the recent outbreak there. It is reported that the government intends to select a certain number of the mutineers by lot and shoot them.

Libau, Aug. 4.—Robbers have stopped several trains near this city and robbed the passengers of their valuables.

Warsaw, Poland, Aug. 4.—A proclamation was issued today by Jewish socialists urging all Jews to be prepared to fight and to hold themselves in readiness to appear in the streets armed when a signal is given. It is feared that a panic will be precipitated by the appeal and the danger has been increased by the chance that a general railway strike may occur. Extraordinary precautions are being taken to preserve order.

A proclamation was issued today by Polish socialists in which they have killed twenty policemen during the last week, and then were responsible for recent train robberies.

Earth Swallows Little Girl.

Mr. Carmel, Pa., Aug. 4.—The old abandoned Wolf slope, used many years ago by the Graeber colliery, opened up yesterday in the heart of Lucust Gap, and six-year-old Irene Schrader fell into it. The slope had been filled up with old rubbish, and its presence had been almost forgotten. It is supposed that sticks became wedged in it years ago when it was filled up, and that those decayed gave away and the rubbish fell to the bottom. A hole, just large enough to admit a child's body and 150 feet deep, appeared, and several children were playing about it, not knowing of its presence, when the little Schrader girl fell in. John Madison then tied a rope about his waist and was lowered by several men into the opening, and securing the girl, was hoisted to the surface. The child was uninjured, beyond slight bruises.

Little Apples on a Grape Vine.

Bethlehem, Pa., August 4.—In the yard of the home of William J. Fink there is a freak growth that has aroused the wonder of all who have seen it. A low, slender branch of a grape vine has put forth two clusters of three each of a fruit resembling an apple. The presence of a large apple tree a few rods away has led some to believe that the growth on the grape vine is a product of mingling of apple and grape pollen. Others who have seen freak apples regard them of the result of the stinging of the vine by some insect. The apples are now about as large as small crab apples. They lack a well defined stem, growing close to the vine.

Socialist Squatters Evicted.

London, Aug. 4.—The socialist squatters who seized a plot of unoccupied land several weeks ago with the avowed intention of cultivating it, were today ejected from the premises by a force of mounted and foot police and ten borough councillors. The tent they had erected as well as the red flag they had raised above it were removed. The leader clung to the flag until he was forcibly ejected, but his followers left quietly. The land seized was in Plaistow Westham. The squatters hoped to raise a small harvest on the land, and were living meanwhile on contributions made by benevolent persons.

New York Stock Market.

New York, Aug 4—11 a. m.—Room traders said that they took their medicine this morning. According to their own story they followed the upward movement too long, and were loaded with long stock that was thrown on the market by what were regarded as bull leaders earlier in the week. After the first few minutes the market became quiet and during the greater part of the first hour business was entirely professional and confined to the floor of the exchange. The market movement was downward from the opening, sud declines were limited to fractions on the high priced issues like Great Northern, which advanced slightly. Anaconda sustained a loss of 11-4 points. Brokers watching the trading said there was a good strong understone, but that there was no incentive for further aggressive buying. The absence of London business was blamed for part of the lack of interest in the trading here. Government bonds were unchanged.

The United States and the Pan-American Congress.

London, August 4.—The Saturday Review scoffs at the reports cabled from the United States in regard to the overwhelming popularity of the United States at the Pan-American Congress. It thinks that the Brazilian account of the conference might be slightly different from the American report. Roosevelts's outbursts, it points out, are not likely to have soothed the alarm of the southern republics toward their big neighbor.

The Longworth's Start for Home.

Cherbourg, Aug. 4.—Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Longworth sailed for New York today on the steamer St. Paul. They were bidden adieu by the Marquis and Count de Chambrun, and their wives and the officials of the American Embassy. Guard I. B. Jones saw Hargrove rush by with the blade of his razor flashing in the moonlight, and shot him dead in the door to the camp. The dead body of the negro blocked the door and checked the rush of all except Willie Harris, a negro murderer, who leaped over the form and dashed out to liberty. Bloodhounds have been put on the track of the negro, and another man hunt is on in Atlanta, the second this week.

"Morocco for Moors."

London, Aug. 4—The correspondent of the Pall Mall Gazette at Tangier, Morocco, wires a sensational story saying it is reported that the natives of the interior are being aroused against the French on account of the violent agitation against that country. The creek has been dragged, but his body has not yet been found. De Haven was the only support of his widowed mother. He and Clark were swept against a foot bridge, to which they clung, the former's strength giving way before assistance reached him.

Three inches of rain fell at Stephen City, Frederick county, in less than two hours Thursday evening, and the water was higher than it has been for thirty-five years. Three Men Killed.

The Browning mines, at Pocahontas, was the scene of an accident late Thursday night in which three men lost their lives. The men were working for the Norfolk and Western Railway on the construction of a branch line of railroad from Pocahontas to Bosservain, called the Pocahontas and Western, and were on the night shift. In running a line of railway over the workings of the mine it was necessary in some places to erect bridge work and fill in, so that the weight of passing trains would not break through. A force of men were engaged in this work Thursday night, when the bridge gave way, and they were crushed to death under the mass of timbers and earth. In addition to those killed, a number were injured, but not seriously.

Several Attempts at Suicide.

Despondent because her stepchildren refused to recognize her, Mrs. Rosa Diggs, the bride of a month of Policeman W. S. Diggs, of Portsmouth, sought three times within a few hours to end her life. She was first refused laudanum at a drug store, and a moment later, when her husband came up, she rushed in front of a Seaboard Air Line train and only the prompt action of her husband saved her from being mangled beneath the wheels. He dragged her almost from under the train in the nick of time. She was arrested, but Mayor Reed declined to punish her, whereupon she immediately went in search of poison and succeeded in getting it. She swallowed laudanum, but was saved by a physician.

Property Sales.

Mr. John D. Normoyle, real estate agent, has sold to Mr. C. R. Walker in connection with the Harrison Realty Company, of Washington, the two story frame dwelling and store at the northwest corner of Columbus and Wythe streets, for Mr. Julius Eggloff, of Washington; also for Mr. John T. Ryan, the two story frame dwelling, No. 322 south Columbus street, and the adjoining lot at the corner of Columbus and Wolfe streets, to Mr. Frank M. Adams; also for Mr. Alexander Barbour, of Pittsburg, Pa., the two story frame dwelling No. 1110 Oronoco street, to Mr. Oscar O Johnson; also for Mr. J. Clinton Smoot four building lots at southwest corner of Mt. Vernon and Alexandria avenues, in Park Addition, to Mrs. Mary E. Cunningham.

It is rumored that City Treasurer Thomas W. Robinson has purchased from Mr. John D. Normoyle, agent for Mrs. Isobel G. Johnston, the three story brick dwelling, with large side lot, at the southwest corner of Washington and Oronoco streets, and it is reported that this property will be handsomely improved.

Letter from Engineer Fendall.

Mayor Timanus, of Baltimore, received a letter yesterday from City Engineer Fendall, who is studying the paving problem abroad. It was written from London under date of July 23, and stated that Baltimore was far ahead of that city in macadamizing streets. Mr. Fendall said that in London the base on which the crushed stone is laid is nothing but filled clay, without the least preparation, whereas a concrete or gravel base is called for in Baltimore contracts. They use granite topping in London, whereas "niggerhead" stone is used in Baltimore. Mr. Fendall said he watched workmen macadamizing the Victoria embankment along the Thames. Closing his letter, he said: "I saw the Lord Mayor of London today in his coach with four horses thereto and the most gorgeously arrayed coachman and footman you ever saw. The drum major in a circus parade would look like 30 cents beside them."

Alleged Mutineers Held.

The four negroes—Robert Alexander, Henry Smoot, James Kelson and Henry Williams—who were put in irons on the steamer St Johns shortly after the steamer left Colonial Beach Wednesday evening, on account of their refusal to work after another deckhand had been discharged, and who were carried to Washington and lodged in the station house with a charge of mutiny against them, were arranged before United States Commissioner Anson S. Taylor yesterday. All entered pleas of not guilty and bond was fixed at $1,000 in each case. The preliminary hearing will be held at 2 o'clock Tuesday afternoon before Commissioner Taylor. It is probable that when the cases are called Tuesday a motion will be made to have them transferred to the Federal Court in Virginia.

Hurt in Runaway Accident.

A dispatch from Winchester says that an automobile belonging to Charles Mullikin, president of the Virginia State Horse Show Association, yesterday afternoon dashed up suddenly behind a carriage containing Miss Elizabeth Greene, who is visiting the family of Mr. Mullikin, and Margaret Turner, the three-year-old daughter of Mrs. Turner, also visiting at Page Brook, in Clarke county, the home of Mr. Mullikin. The horse took fright and bolted and both were thrown out. The child escaped unhurt, but Miss Greene was slightly injured. The many friends of Miss Greene in this city will be glad to learn that a telephone message received here today from Clarke stated that her injuries were not at all serious.

Enforcing the Vagrant Act.

Among the cases before Justice Caton in the Police Court this morning was that of two white men, Alexandrians, who had been arrested by Officers Bell and Roberts under the vagrant act. They were fined $5 each. A number of darkeys have recently been arrested as vagrants, and the attention of the police is now being directed to certain white men who have no visible means of support and who loiter about the streets killing time.

Every year thousands of pilgrims visit the shrine. The miracles wrought there are wonderful. Manassas Day at Luna Park.

Yesterday was Manassas Day at Luna Park when a large number of school children, accompanied by their parents, visited the resort and enjoyed the many attractions there. It took eleven cars of the Washington, Alexandria and Mt. Vernon Railway Company to get the little visitors to the park. Manager Gill extended the freedom of the park to all. The children played ball, ran races and climbed the big trees. Judge C. E Nicol entertained them at lunch. The free admisson has been established at Luna Park for all school children every Saturday afternoon. The Ex-Delegates' Association of the Washington Typographical Union held their annual outing at the park today. Manager Gill is making arrangements for Alexandria County Day on the 20th instant, when a per-centage of the receipts will be devoted to the public school libraries.

Valuable Zones of Silence.

There has come into modern life a greater variety of sound and a greater volume than assailed the ears of our ancestors. To keep one's freshness there ought to be a zone of silence around every human being during some part of the day. The finest creative work is done, as a rule, in seclusion; not necessarily apart from men nor in solitary places, but away from the tumult and away from distracting sounds. There was organized in Paris years ago a society for the culture of silence. On the occasion of the initiation of a distinguished man of letters a bowl of water was brought out to him in a room where he was waiting in solitude. He studied it a moment, placed a rose upon it and sent it back. The water bore the rose without overflowing. To the members assembled in another room the act was the most convincing evidence that the initiate comprehended the purpose of the fellowship and was prepared in spirit to become one of the company. The act was a symbol which Americans may wisely study.—Good Health.

English Railways and Fogs.

It is seldom that there is a sufficiently heavy fog on an American railway to cause serious inconvenience that no special precautions are taken, but in England a heavy fog is so common that there is a regular service made up of the repair gangs, who take the place of the mechanical signals. Every distance signal is guarded by a signal man, who is supplied with flags and torpedoes, the latter being called detonators, while the signal men are pointsmen. Two torpedoes are placed on the track to warn the engineer when the signal is set at danger and are supplemented by a red lantern in the hands of the signal man. As the torpedoes cost a cent and a half each and are used in great numbers there is a machine supplied by which the second torpedo is forced from the rail by the force of the explosion of the first, as only one is necessary, the second being merely a precaution.

The Chow Dog.

The chow, the solemn, black tongued dog which comes from China, is, the London Chronicle thinks, the ideal city dog. It says: "He never barks unless there is something serious to bark at. You open the door, and the dog marches out with fine solemnity. This writer's chow has a range of about ten square miles, and he has never hurt a baby, though he has gathered innumerable friends during his solemn march through London. He never loses his head, and his morning walks embrace Chelsea, Putney and the sacred precincts of the Brompton oratory. Indeed, he once followed a bicycle to Hendon and found his way back within forty-eight hours with an honorably empty stomach. The unaccompanied chow is the very least of the nuisances of the London streets."

Artificial Honey.

The honey had some foreign substance in it—the leg of a bee and a shred of broken wing.

"Well," said the wife of the food expert, "this is pure at any rate." She held up the bits of bee on a fork before her husband. "No benzoic acid, formaldehyde, boric acid or salicylic acid here, eh, John?"

But John, the food expert, laughed scornfully. "Those bits of bee in the honey," he said, "prove its artificiality. Genuine honey never has dead bees in it. They who make genuine honey are too clean and careful for anything of that kind to happen. It is as rare to find in real honey a bee's wing or a bee's leg as it is to find in a loaf of bread a baker's hand or foot."

Bagging the Grapes.

Immediately after the grapes have blossomed cover the bunches with two or three pound manila grocers' bags, according to the size of the variety. This is pre-eminently a fruit garden method, although commercial growers often use it. It is the surest and often the most practical way of securing perfect bunches. Tie or pin the mouth of the bag firmly; leave no opening to catch water. Cut a small piece off the lower corner of the bag, so that no water will stay in it. Leave the bag on until the fruit is ready to pick.—Garden Magazine.

Literary Coincidence.

Resemblance does not always mean plagiarism. There was no plagiarism, certainly, in Newman's line, "The night is dark, and I am far from home," though it has been pointed out that it almost exactly reproduces a line in a play printed in 1599. This play is "Two Angry Women of Abington," by Henry Porter, and the original line runs, "'Tis late and dark, and I am far from home."

Tombstone Inscriptions.

Three of the commonest tombstone inscriptions are "In the midst of life we are in death." "His end was peace," "He tempers the wind to the shorn lamb." The sentiment of each is comforting and consolatory, but none comes from the Bible.

Prof. Tyler, of Amherst college, said recently: "A man can live comfortably without brains; no man ever existed without a digestive system. The dyspeptic has neither faith, hope or charity." Day by day people realize the importance of caring for their digestion; realize the need of the use of a little corrective after overeating. A corrective like Kodol For Dyspepsia. It digests what you eat. Sold by W. F. Creighton & Co., 401 Kingstreet.

Luckiest Man in Arkansas.

"I'm the luckiest man in Arkansas," writes H. L. Stanley, of Bruno, "since the restoration of my wife's health after five years of continuous coughing and bleeding from the lungs; and I owe my good fortune to the world's greatest medicine, Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, which I know from experience will cure consumption if taken in time. My wife improved with first bottle and twelve bottles completed the cure." Cures the worst coughs and colds or money refunded. At E. S. Leadbeater & Sons' druggists, 50c and $1.00. IN STRICT CONFIDENCE.

Women Obtain Mrs. Pinkham's Advice and Help.

She Has Guided Thousands to Health.—How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Cured Mrs. Alice Berryhill.

It is a great satisfaction for a woman to feel that she can write to another telling her the most private and confidential details about her illness, and know that her letter will be seen by a woman only.

Many thousands of cases of female diseases come before Mrs. Pinkham every year, some personally, others by mail. Mrs. Pinkham is the daughter-in-law of Lydia E. Pinkham and for twenty-five years under her direction and since her decease she has been advising sick women free of charge.

Mrs. Pinkham never violates the confidence of women, and every testimonial letter published is done so with the written consent or request of the writer, in order that other sick women may be benefited as she has been.

Mrs. Alice Berryhill, of 313 Boyce Street, Chattanooga, Tenn., writes:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—

"Three years ago life looked dark to me. I had ulceration and inflammation of the female organs and was in a serious condition.

"My health was completely broken down and the doctor told me that if I was not operated upon I would die within six months. I told him I would have no operation but would try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. He tried to influence me against it but I sent for the medicine that same day and began to use it faithfully. Within five days I felt relief but was not entirely cured until I used it for some time.

"Your medicine is certainly fine. I have induced several friends and neighbors to take it and I know more than a dozen who had female troubles and who to-day are as well and strong as I am from using your Vegetable Compound."

Just as surely as Mrs. Berryhill was cured, will Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound cure every woman suffering from any form of female ills.

If you are sick write Mrs. Pinkham for advice. It is free and always helpful.
